Dear Judge Colleen Kollar-Kotelly,

I am aware of Microsoft's unprecedented market dominance, and I do continue to use their products. But I do not feel it is in the best interests of American enterprise for the DOJ or the US Government to support the ongoing monopolistic practices of Microsoft.

Open competition and fair-market practices MUST be upheld in this landmark case, or else the current rate of technological growth, and the development of better, more stable, innovative products will surely suffer.

I am also concerned that Microsoft's lack of meaningful market-share competition for alternative Operating Systems, Web-browsers and Windows-based software, can only lead to increasingly poorer functionality in their product lines and an ever-increasing disregard for the need of America's business, corporate and home-based consumers.

Please deal responsibly with Microsoft - end the monopoly, now!
I request you immediately stop Microsoft's regrettable dominance and control of America's Information Systems. Help keep America free!

Sincerely,

Randall Alan Fultz
